2. Serve and support students, alumni, employers, deans, faculty, and other constituencies through participation in Law School events and activities, appropriate curricular support, and accurate collection and reporting of employment data and evidence supporting such data.

VISION
Every BYU Law graduate leaves with:
1. Increased knowledge and awareness of self
2. A professional development plan
3. Step 1 of the plan in place
4. The tools and resources to continue to evaluate and progress in their individual professional lives

CORE VALUES
We value:
1. Each student individually and respect their unique circumstances, experiences, and aspirations;
2. A collaborative process into which we invite and welcome the input and perspective of each other, students, faculty, and administration;
3. Clear and honest communication, acknowledging that we keep confidences, strive to be optimistic, allow for vulnerability, and are good to others and for others;
4. Respect, and to earn it, we give it; and
5. A professional, service-oriented, and welcoming atmosphere.

BYU Law School Policy on Non-discrimination
As a law school accredited by the American Bar Association (ABA), and as a member of the Association of American law Schools (AALS), the J. Reuben Clark Law School provides equal opportunity in legal education for all persons, including faculty and employees, with respect to hiring, continuation, promotion and continuing faculty status, applicants for admission, enrolled students, and graduates, without discrimination or segregation on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, or disability. Because of the Law School’s religious affiliation and purpose, ABA standards and AALS regulations as applied to the Law School require equal opportunity on the basis of sexual orientation but not on the basis of conduct. All members of the Law School community are required to comply with the Brigham Young University Honor Code. The Law School, as is permitted by ABA standards and AALS regulations, also prefers faithful members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in employment. *For questions about ABA accreditation, contact American Bar Association, Council of the Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar, 321 N. Clark Street, 21st Floor, Chicago, IL 60654; Phone: 312.988.6738; Fax: 312.988.5681; legaled@americanbar.org.

Any law student who feels he or she has been subject to discrimination prohibited by the above policy should contact Assistant Dean Allison Belnap, 375 JRCB, or may contact the University Equal Employment Office, A-285 ASB.
